

OVERVIEW LECTURERS

Dr. Beatriz RODRÍGUEZ-LABAJOS, Institute for Environmental Science and Technology (ICTA-UAB)

Dr. Beatriz RODRÍGUEZ-LABAJOS holds a PhD in Environmental Sciences and a MSc in Ecological Economics and Environmental Management. Deputy coordinator of the EJOLT project. Currently she is a researcher at ICTA-UAB. Lecturer at the Autonomous University of Barcelona (2005-2009), professor at the Autonomous University of the Mexico State (1997-2003) and Autonomous University of Zacatecas (1996). Scientific advisor of the Catalan river basin authority (2007-2010). Her research interests include the socio-economic dimension of biodiversity and ecosystem services, water management and socio-environmental conflicts, with field experience in Latin America, Europe and South East Asia.

Contact: Beatriz.Rodriguez@uab.cat

Dr. Leah TEMPER, Institute for Environmental Science and Technology (ICTA-UAB)

Dr. Leah TEMPER is a trans-disciplinary researcher, activist and filmmaker with a degree in communications science and a doctorate in Ecological Economics from the Autonomous University of Barcelona. She is deputy scientific coordinator of a collaborative project that brings activists and scientists together to work on and support movements for Environmental Justice (www.ejolt.org) and the editor of the Global Atlas of Environmental Justice (ejatlas.org), an initiative mapping ecological conflicts and spaces of resistance around the world. She has published in numerous journals and is the co-editor of the book "Ecological Economics from the Ground Up". Her media work also centers on social and environmental justice issues, including short films such "Life After Growth" and "Delhi Waste Wars", blogs and newspaper articles.

Contact: leah.temper@gmail.com.

Daniela del Bene, Institute for Environmental Science and Technology (ICTA-UAB)

Daniela Del Bene studied International Relations and Diplomacy at the University of Trieste (Italy) and Anthropology at the University of Turin (Italy) and the University of Heidelberg (Germany). She has worked on water issues, specially regarding large dams and hydropower and human right to water. Her main research fields are India, Italy and Latin America. She is currently a Phd candidate at ICTA-UAB and works on the Ejolt map of environmental conflicts.

Contact: d.delbene@gmail.com

Angèle MIGUET, ASud Onlus

Angèle MIGUET is Belgian, 28 years old. She has a background in History and European Studies (UCL, 2011), and a professional experience in Human Rights, Gender and Environment. Currently working on "Environmental Conflicts" at ASud Onlus Rome, Italy.

Contact: angele.minguet@gmail.com

Dr. Rikard WARLENIUS, Lund University

Rikard Warlenius is a PhD Candidate in Human Ecology and teacher at Lund University, Sweden. His main areas of research and teaching include ecological debt and ecologically unequal exchange as well as world system analysis and ecological economics. He was the main editor of Ejolt Report no 18: Ecological debt. History, meaning and relevance for Environmental justice.

Contact: rikard.warlenius@hek.lu.se

Dr. Godwin OJO, Environmental Rights Action (ERA) /Friends of the Earth Nigeria

Dr. Godwin OJO is Executive Director of the Environmental Rights Action (ERA) /Friends of the Earth, Nigeria. For close to two decades he has been involved in the establishment of community resource centres (CRCs) as a model development in the Niger Delta communities, Nigeria. As a Chevening scholar, he received his MSc in Environment and Development studies in 2000 from the University of East Anglia, (UK), and recently obtained his PhD from King's College, London.

Contact: gloryline2000@yahoo.co.uk

Dr. Marcelo Firpo Porto, FIOCRUZ

Marcelo Firpo Porto is Graduated in Production Engineering (Federal University of Rio de Janeiro, 1984) and Psychology (State University of Rio de Janeiro, 1991), master's degree and doctorate in Production Engineering at COPPE/UFRJ and postdoctorate in Social Medicine at the University of Frankfurt (2001-2003). Senior researcher of the Study Center of Workers' Health and Human Ecology of the National School of Public Health, Oswaldo Cruz Foundation (FIOCRUZ) (since 1987). Academic experience with environmental health, environmental justice; political ecology and integrated risk analysis.

Contact: marcelo.firpo@ensp.fiocruz.br